

Contents

Alpár Gergely P.: Kantian Critical Remarks about the Ontological Argument .....	1
János Loboczkzy: Heroic Struggle and Monumentality – Parallelisms in the Life-Works of Beethoven and Hegel .....	7
Márk Láng: Kierkegaard on Sin as the Basis of Second Ethics .....	17
Miklós Nyíró: Claude Romano on the ‘Phenomenal Characteristics’ of Events .....	25
Attila Demeter M.: The Birth of Modern Philosophy of History. (Annotations to Hannah Arendt’s Book On Revolution) .....	38
Tamás Valastyán: Is a Cultural Society Possible? The Paradoxical Relationship between Culture and Society in the Thought of György Márkus.....	52
Ádám Lovász: Niklas Luhmann and Jacques Ellul on the Autonomy of Technology .....	65
Botond Bakcsi: War and the Theory of Power.....	80

Workshop

Mikáczó Alexandra: “Everything which We Call Nature, in the Last Analysis, Is a Figment of the Imagination”. About the Relationship between Suprematism and the Kantian Sublime .....	90
Bertalan Kemény: The Awakening as a Philosophical Method in the Philosophy of Valéria Dienes .....	99
Tamás Beck: Heidegger and Immortality .....	113
Róbert Husztig: The Relation between Death and Time in the Philosophy of Karl Rahner. An Approach from the Side of the Infinite .....	118
Andrea Sipos: The Transformation of the Concept of Subjectivity in the Philosophy of Jean-Luc Marion and Claude Romano.....	128
Erzsébet Kerekes: Miracle, Wandering, Enigma. Ricoeur’s Thoughts on Sexuality.....	142
Mónika Rancz: Myth Formation. The Relationships between Myth and Artwork in the Light of Two Essays by Hans-Georg Gadamer.....	150
Nikolett Nyíró: Can Active Attention Be Given Up? .....	158

Reviews

Amália Soós: Methodical Self-Definition. How Should We Debate the Method Right? .....	168
Márk Láng: Notes on the History of the Critique of Criticism.....	174
Botond Bakcsi: The Hungarian Reception of Republicanism: Questions and Possibilities.....	181
Mónika Rancz: How to Make a Portrait? .....	184
Evelin Veres: Philosophical Perspectives from the Perspective of Locality.....	188
Mónika Jáger-Péter: The Hermeneutic Productivity of In-Betweenness.....	192
Erzsébet Kerekes: The Afterlife of Károly Böhm’s Philosophy .....	194
Károly Veres: Entrances to Stories.....	197

Society Communications

MTA – EME National Program Research Support and Cooperation. Presidential Address at the Ceremony on 12 October 2023 .....	202
The Day Of Hungarian Science in the Partium. Demography, Social Relations and Processes. Presidential Address, Oradea, 10 November 2023. ....	204