

Table of Contents

STUDIES

NÓRA SÉLLEI: Woolf, Mrs Dalloway , and The Hours : Intertextual Games Multiplied . . .	3
RUMEN ISTVÁN CSÖRSZ: A Midsummer Night's Dream and Hungarian Poetry	24
ANDRÁS KÁNYÁDI: The Venetian Encyclopaedist: Casanova's Letters	46
ZSUZSA TÖRÖK: The Editor and the Ghostwriter. Flóra Majthényi and the Periodical Virágcsokor	58
ÁGNES KORONDI: Saint Jerome, the Auctor in Late Medieval Hungarian- Language Manuscripts	80
BOGLÁRKA NÉMETH: The Enregisterment of Szekler Dialect in the Discourses around Áron Tamási's Ábel Trilogy	92

WORKSHOP

LÁSZLÓ BÜKY: "What a Sad World This Is!" – On Melancholy-Related Words in the Poetry of Mihály Babits	110
MIKLÓS KÁZMÉR: From Hermannstadt to Calcutta – The Life and Work of Leopold von Fichtel, Naturalist, Micropalaeontologist.	122
ZOLTÁN MÁTHÉ-FARKAS: The Punishment for Anger Is the Sword . Analysis of the Metaphor in Job 19,29b.	133
NOÉMI GUDOR: Gothic Spatiality in Mór Jókai's Hétköznapiok	144

REVIEWS

ZSUZSA TAPODI: On the Branch of Nothingness	154
ZSUZSA LÁSZLÓ: In the Human Wonderland, or the Omnipresence of Self- Understanding Figures	160
ROLAND ÁRON BENEDEK: „The Virtue of a Mind's play” The Correspondence of György Aranka I. (1767–1794)	165
BLANKA-BORÓKA BUNA: Subtle Calibrations in the (fragmentary) poetry of György Aranka.	170
TÍMEA BERKI: Can Writing Bring Us Back to Life?	174
ZSOLT FURUS: The Links in the Chain of Intellectual Research in the Past, Recent Past and Present	178
NOÉMI GUDOR: The (Historical) Illusion Of Contemporary Novel Language	184
NORBERT GYÖRGY: Within „Florentina”'s Casket Lies an Ode to Love and Friendship, Entwined with the Rapture of Wine	188

MÓNKA LACZKÓ: „More than Music” – Ideologies Behind Hungarian Pop-Rock . . .	191
KINGA LÁZÁR: Spaces of Cultural Encounter and Hybrid Identities in Literature: Transcultural Interpretations	194
ZSIGMOND MÁTÉ: New Spaces of Mediation. The Mediality of Space and the New Language of Experience	198
ESZTER-JÚLIA SALAMON: Beyond Languages, Across Cultures	203
KAMILLA SZEMES: The Theatre of Three Eras	208
NÓRA-ERZSÉBET VARGA: Intertextual Relations and Narrative Stratification	211
CSILLA TAMÁSNE SZABÓ: The First Printed Volume of the Hungarian National Toponym Registry	216
IN MEMORIAM
EMESE EGYED: Remembering Professor Árpád Antal.	219
BALÁZS BÉLA VÉGH: Lovas János (1946–2025)	222
ANNOUNCEMENTS OF THE ASSOCIATION
ENIKŐ BITAY: Welcome Address to Participants of the IV. Tehetségid Conference . .	224
ENIKŐ BITAY: The Itinerant Conference as a Scientific and Community Tradition, Sfântu Gheorghe, April 11–12, 2025.	226