

Table of Contents

STUDIES

TAMÁS ULLMANN: Innocence and the Birth of the Subject	3
IMOLA NAGY: Approaches to the Thematization of the Unconscious in Husserl's Phenomenology	23
ZALÁN-GYÖRGY ILYÉS: On the Weakness and Strength of the Word of Faith, or: Giorgio Agamben Reads Walter Benjamin and Saint Paul	32
MARK LANG: Meursault's Revolt. Outlines of a Possible Interpretation of Freedom in The Stranger	50
ZSUZSANNA LURCZA: Middle Voice and Mediality – Philosophical Possibilities and Linguistic Constraints?	61
ATTILA M. DEMETER: "Thinking without a Handle". Hannah Arendt on Kant's "Political Philosophy"	76
LÁSZLÓ LEVENTE BALOGH: Kant in Jerusalem	85
LAJOS ANDRÁS KISS: Chantal Mouffe on the Chances of a Leftist Populism	98
DÉNES TAMÁS: Politics in the Age of Post-Reality	112
GIZELA HORVÁTH: How to Protect the Earth with Tomato Sauce? Attacks on Artworks as a Weapon of Environmental Activism	123
MÓNIKA RANCZ: Omenește, prea omenește? Rolul mimesismului în lecturile lui Hans-Georg Gadamer și Giorgio Agamben	141
ILDIKÓ VERES: Theory and Experience. Béla Brandenstein's Fateful Events and the Theory of the Subsystems of the Lifeworld	153
WORKSHOP
MARK-ALEK SĂPĂTARU: Origen on the Possibility of Satan's Salvation.	168
RÉKA ERÖSS: The State's Fragile Body. Rousseau's Political Thought in the Mirror of the Discourse on Political Economy	183
EVELIN VERES: Before and After: The French Revolution and Its Variations in the Thought of József Eötvös	194
EMESE KUNKLI: Mr. Bennet as Jane Austen's Most Ironic Character	201
ALEXANDRA MIKÁCZÓ: Meaning Stripped Bare. Thought as Artwork in the Light of Marcel Duchamp and Conceptual Art	218
DIANA-KAROLA MARIN: The Question Coming from the Animal	232

REVIEWS

ATTILA KOVÁCS: The Dual Nature of the Subject, or Additions to Zsuzsanna Lurcza's book Új korszellem kísértetek hálójában (In the Web of New Age Ghosts)	240
KÁROLY VERESS: Questions of Identity from a Hermeneutic Perspective	245
ANNOUNCEMENTS OF THE ASSOCIATION
ENIKÓ BITAY: The Hungarian Science Day in Partium. Partium's Place and Significance in the Academic Movement	252
ENIKÓ BITAY: The Hungarian Science is Our Shared Responsibility. The Hungarian Science Day in Transylvania – 24th forum. Inaugural Speech . . .	255
ENIKÓ BITAY: KoMaTE30: The 30th Anniversary of the Founding of the Association of Hungarian History Students in Cluj-Napoca.	257